LC: To describe a fantasy creature - Smaug's Lair

As I cautiously crept into Smaug's lair, I saw enormous mountains of gold glinting through the dim light. As I slowly stepped, down the sturdy stone staircase I saw sparkling jewels in arrays of colours and heard the crunching and clicking sounds of icy gold coins beneath my bare feet. Full of fear and excitement I crept further and further into Smaug's lair. I gasped at the glowing treasures of golden drinking goblets, trophies and treasure chests.

Anxiously, I crept on mounds and mounds of gold coins, the icy coins clinked and slipped beneath my feet and down the side of the mounds. The clinking noise got louder and I began to grow fearful and stood frozen to the ground. All of a sudden, a glowing jewel the size of my hand appeared in a mound of coins. I quickly grabbed the jewel and put it carefully in my jacket.

Suddenly, I felt a colossal mighty rumbling under my feet and the room began to shake. Then lots and lots of gold coins slid down the mound like terrifying people trying to get away from something very powerful!

A big amber almond shaped eye opened and shone towards me. Oh no! I thought I had disturbed Smaug, the mighty powerful dragon. I ran as fast as my legs could carry me across the slippery coins. I hid behind a stone column. I heard a big rumble and was about to run in another direction but suddenly a big pointy tail surrounded me. Then I peered around the column and saw Smaug's amber eye and his enormous fearful black shadow.

Without warning, Smaug's spikey head rose above me and he opened to reveal teeth as sharp as swords. His wings were like an immense tent and his tail was thorny with spikes as sharp as a pin. His short stubby legs had talons as sharp as spears.
